Hello Nex team,

Not sure if anyone reads the cover letters anymore, but I just wanted to clarify a few things:

I'm currently based in Germany but I'm actively looking to relocate to Hong Kong, and this role caught my eye due to your location and Nex as a device.

After owning a Kinect a long time ago, I'm happy to see a modern concept like this show up and I'd be glad to be part of the team that makes it work.

I've spent the last few years shipping games across PC and mobile as both an employee and an indie co-founder. On the mobile side, I've recently been working on project that integrates Google Play and App Store SDKs and a custom analytics backend. And I've had prior experience creating custom tools/SDK for other projects, happy to continue this at Nex.

Best,

Arseny Dremin
